

Lippes Mathias Wexler Friedman LLP's Christopher A. Walker serves as a panelist on Jacksonville Chapter's CFO Leadership Council Webinar

October 19, 2020 | PRESS RELEASES

BUFFALO, NY— On October 27, 2020, Lippes Mathias' Jacksonville office, Partner-in-Charge, Christopher A. Walker, will serve as a panelist on a CFO Leadership Council webinar. The webinar titled "Successfully Managing & Engaging Your Newly Formed Remote Workforce" will discuss the unplanned challenges associated with the economic downturn due to COVID-19. Including the issues of uncertainty and disruption in the workplace and how finance leaders can effectively navigate themselves and their teams through these unprecedented times.

Christopher's practice is focused on real estate and banking. He counsels clients - from entrepreneurs and startups to large, privately held companies across multiple industries – through every phase of growth. He provides practical advice aligned with their objectives. His candid approach and commitment to speak the client's language has earned him the reputation of a multi-faceted counselor and facilitator of matters involving all aspects of mergers & acquisitions and real estate over many industries.

About The CFO Leadership Council

Founded in 2006, The CFO Leadership Council began as an informal gathering of finance executives who wanted to build lasting connections with their peers in a comfortable, confidential setting. The close community includes 27 chapters and nearly 2,000 members who actively drive the organization through feedback and insight.
