

Intellectual Property Litigation & Dispute Resolution

Lippes Mathias has a proven track record of achieving positive results in complex patent, trademark, copyright, trade secret and related intellectual property disputes. We represent those seeking to both enforce and defend their patents, trademarks, copyright and trade secret rights in federal courts throughout the United States, in arbitrations, and mediations, and before the United States Patent and Trademark Office and The International Trade Commission (ITC). Our clients include well-known Fortune 500 companies, emerging businesses, and individual inventors and intellectual property owners in numerous industries.

Our Patent Litigation team is led by seasoned trial lawyers with substantial experience in representing clients in challenging and high-profile patent matters. Our lawyers have successfully navigated numerous high-stakes cases, securing favorable jury and bench verdicts and settlements. This litigation team is bolstered by twenty patent attorneys and intellectual property engineers with advanced degrees in a wide array of disciplines, such as chemistry, electrical and mechanical and bio engineering, physics, and computer science. Many of these professionals also bring valuable industry experience to the table, having worked in relevant fields before transitioning to law.

Similarly, rounding out our Patent Litigation Team is our Intellectual Property Litigation Team which brings a wealth of experience in trademark, trade secret, and copyright litigation both in the Federal District Courts and the Federal Courts of Appeals throughout the U.S. as well before the ITC and USPTO and in arbitration and mediation proceedings. In addition to first chair jury, bench and administrative trial proceedings, this team also brings significant experience from leading in-house teams at Fortune 100 companies and strategically directing complex multi-country litigations.

This unique blend of academic expertise and practical experience allows us to provide sophisticated legal counsel tailored to the specific technical and commercial needs of our clients. We leverage our deep understanding of various technologies and industries to develop innovative litigation strategies, ensuring robust defense and enforcement of patent, trademark, copyright and trade secret rights. Our comprehensive approach to this litigation includes detailed technical analysis, strategic planning, and vigorous representation in court and other dispute resolution forums. This combination of skills and experience positions us as a formidable force in the area of IP litigation, consistently delivering positive outcomes for our clients.
